Authors note: In the airplane we are told to always put our own oxygen mask on before assisting others. This is the fundamental concept of self care. Before we can be good friends, parents, siblings, teachers, mentors, bosses, change-makers, students, artists, social justice activists, allies, leaders, and before we can be helpful to ourselves and others, we must take care of our selves first. This is not selfish. It is courageous and wise. Self care looks like a million different acts that are unique to each individual (I like to eat pizza in my bathtub or drive to the train tracks to listen to the rumbles, booms, and clangs). Whatever self care means to you, I hope this workbook helps you continue to give yourself patience, gentleness, humor, simplicity, care, and above all, love.

Much love,
Claire
Be patient with yourself. Nothing in nature blooms all year.

Have courage and be kind.

You are imperfect, permanently and inevitably flawed, and you are beautiful.

Some days it's okay if all you did was breathe.

Hardships often prepare ordinary people for an extraordinary destiny...

Don't be delicate. Be vast and brilliant.

C.S. Lewis
My friends, do not lose heart. We were made for these times. I have heard from so many recently who are deeply and properly bewildered. They are concerned about the state of affairs in our world now. Ours is a time of almost daily astonishment and often righteous rage over the latest degradations of what matters most to civilized, visionary people.

You are right in your assessments. The lustre and hubris some have aspired to while endorsing acts so heinous against children, elders, everyday people, the poor, the unguarded, the helpless, is breathtaking. Yet, I urge you, ask you, gentle you, to please not spend your spirit dry by bewailing these difficult times. Especially do not lose hope. Most particularly because, the fact is that we were made for these times. Yes. For years, we have been learning, practicing, been in training for and just waiting to meet on this exact plain of engagement.

I grew up on the Great Lakes and recognize a seaworthy vessel when I see one. Regarding awakened souls, there have never been more able vessels in the waters than there are right now across the world. And they are fully provisioned and able to signal one another as never before in the history of humankind.

Look out over the prow; there are millions of boats of righteous souls on the waters with you. Even though your veneers may shiver from every wave in this stormy roil, I assure you that the long timbers composing your prow and rudder come from a greater forest. That long-grained lumber is known to withstand storms, to hold together, to hold its own, and to advance, regardless.

In any dark time, there is a tendency to veer toward fainting over how much is wrong or unmended in the world. Do not focus on that. There is a tendency, too, to fall into being weakened by dwelling on what is outside your reach, by what cannot yet be. Do not focus there. That is spending the wind without raising the sails.

We are needed, that is all we can know. And though we meet resistance, we more so will meet great souls who will hail us, love us and guide us, and we will know them when they appear. Didn't you say you were a believer? Didn't you say you pledged to listen to a voice greater? Didn't you ask for grace? Don't you remember that to be in grace means to submit to the voice greater?

Ours is not the task of fixing the entire world all at once, but of stretching out to mend the part of the world that is within our reach. Any small, calm thing that one soul can do to help another soul, to assist some portion of this poor suffering world, will help immensely. It is not given to us to know which acts or by whom, will cause the critical mass to tip toward an enduring good.

What is needed for dramatic change is an accumulation of acts, adding, adding more, continuing. We know that it does not take everyone on Earth to bring justice and peace, but only a small, determined group who will not give up during the first, second, or hundredth gale.
One of the most calming and powerful actions you can do to intervene in a stormy world is to stand up and show your soul. Soul on deck shines like gold in dark times. The light of the soul throws sparks, can send up flares, builds signal fires, causes proper matters to catch fire. To display the lantern of soul in shadowy times like these - to be fierce and to show mercy toward others; both are acts of immense bravery and greatest necessity.

Struggling souls catch light from other souls who are fully lit and willing to show it. If you would help to calm the tumult, this is one of the strongest things you can do. There will always be times when you feel discouraged. I too have felt despair many times in my life, but I do not keep a chair for it. I will not entertain it. It is not allowed to eat from my plate.

The reason is this: In my uttermost bones I know something, as do you. It is that there can be no despair when you remember why you came to Earth, who you serve, and who sent you here. The good words we say and the good deeds we do are not ours. They are the words and deeds of the One who brought us here. In that spirit, I hope you will write this on your wall: When a great ship is in harbor and moored, it is safe, there can be no doubt. But that is not what great ships are built for.

By Clarissa Pinkola Estes
American poet, post-trauma specialist and Jungian psychoanalyst, author of Women Who Run With the Wolves.
the universe took its time on you crafted you precisely
so you could offer the world something distinct from everyone else so when you doubt
how you were created you doubt an energy greater than us both

- rupi kaur

it was when i stopped searching for home within others and lifted the foundations of home within myself i found there were no roots more intimate than those between a mind and body that have decided to be whole

- rupi kaur
INSPIRATION

PLACES YOU FIND INSPIRATION

PEOPLE THAT INSPIRE YOU

Sacred Space

In a spiritual practice, it can be useful to have a space that is private, quiet, and completely personal. A place to reflect, meditate, or even just sit and read. It can be something as simple as your own bedroom or maybe a shrine or altar.

Do you have a sacred space? Where is it?

How do you practice self-care and spirituality in your space?

How have you decorated your space? What symbols are present?

Support System

Who can I call when...

I'm feeling lonely:

I need some company:

I need someone to talk to:

I need someone to encourage me to get out of the house and do something fun:

I need someone to remind me to follow my self-care plan:

Other:

Dealing with Worries

I am worried about:

What can I do about it?

I am worried about:

What can I do about it?

I am worried about:

What can I do about it?
50 Ways to Take a Break

- Take a Bath
- Listen to Music
- Take a Nap
- Go to a body of water
- Watch the clouds
- Light a candle
- Learn something new
- Rest your legs up on a wall
- Let out a sigh
- Fly a kite
- Rest
- Write a letter
- Sit in nature
- Move twice as slowly
- Take a guided relaxation
- Read a book
- Notice your body
- Buy some flowers
- Call a friend
- Eat a meal in silence
- Take a hike
- Create your own coffee break
- Go to a park
- Drive somewhere new
- Go to a farmer's market
- Pet a furry creature
- Examine an everyday object with fresh eyes
- Turn off all electronics
- Go for a run
- Drive somewhere new
- Go to a nature trail
- Forgive someone
- Find a relaxing scent
- Write a quick poem
- Read poetry
- View some art
- Engage in small acts of kindness
- Do some gentle stretches
- Color with crayons
- Make some music
- Climb a tree
- Let go of something
- Put on some music and dance
- Give thanks
- Hold someone close
- Find a new way to move
- Learn a new skill
Things I am freaking the heck out about today:

(Scribble about whatever and wherever)
we are living in a material world
and I am a material squirrel

we are living in a material world
and I am a material squirrel

“Nothing tastes as good as skinny feels.”

I DON’T KNOW. YOU EVER PUT A DOUGHNUT IN THE MICROWAVE?

When my friends ask if I’m going out tonight, I’m like...

Go away. I’m busy.

HOW TO COVER YOUR DARK EYE CIRCLES
KUSHANDWIZDOM.TUMBLR

“What I hear when I’m being yelled at is people caring loudly at me.”

Funnies
when you’re having a bad hair day and you’re trying to love yourself enough to leave the house

Together we shall rule the Earth!

I know how you feel, vending machine...
I know how you feel...

The light inside has broken but I still work

Baby Rabies
15 minutes ago

Thanks to all the horror movies that depict little kids as possessed goblins, I now have to fight back the urge to roundhouse kick my kid in the face when she walks down the hall in the middle of the night.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN YOU NEED WATER, TINY SATAN.

385 Likes 43 Comments
Directions
You know the brick path in back of the house,
the one you see from the kitchen window,
the one that bends around the far end of the garden where all the yellow primroses are?
And you know how if you leave the path and walk up into the woods you come to a heap of rocks, probably pushed down during the horrors of the Ice Age, and a grove of tall hemlocks, dark green now against the light-brown fallen leaves?
And farther on, you know
the small footbridge with the broken railing and if you go beyond that you arrive at the bottom of that sheep's head hill?
Well, if you start climbing, and you might have to grab hold of a sapling
when the going gets steep,
you will eventually come to a long stone ridge with a border of pine trees which is as high as you can go and a good enough place to stop.

The best time is late afternoon when the sun strobos through the columns of trees as you are hiking up, and when you find an agreeable rock to sit on, you will be able to see the light pouring down into the woods and breaking into the shapes and tones of things and you will hear nothing but a sprig of birdsong or the leafy falling of a cone or nut through the trees, and if this is your day you might even spot a hare or feel the wing-beats of geese driving overhead toward some destination.
But it is hard to speak of these things
how the voices of light enter the body and begin to recite their stories how the earth holds us painfully against its breast made of humus and brambles how we who will soon be gone regard the entities that continue to return greener than ever, spring water flowing through a meadow and the shadows of clouds passing over the hills and the ground where we stand in the tremble of thought taking the vast outside into ourselves.

Still, let me know before you set out.
Come knock on my door and I will walk with you as far as the garden with one hand on your shoulder.
I will even watch after you and not turn back to the house until you disappear into the crowd of maple and ash, heading up toward the hill,
piercing the ground with your stick

- Billy Collins
There is champagne—bubble effervescence—in life...
Haiku-na matata!
Writing is a wonderful form of self-care, but sometimes can seem daunting. One form of poetry that can help provide a more manageable framework is the haiku. Haikus are a traditional Japanese poetry form and are short and structured. Try a few!

Structure:
- 1st line: five syllables
- 2nd line: seven syllables
- 3rd line: five syllables

Example:
- I hate the triggers
- Crouching round every corner
- Unexpected claws

| | | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
BE PATIENT WITH YOURSELF.
3 things I’m totally dreading doing:

☐ ____________________________________________________________

☐ ____________________________________________________________

☐ ____________________________________________________________

Now choose one thing you can get done... I promise you can do it and it will help you feel better! Afterwards, treat yo’self!

3 things I’m totally dreading doing:

☐ ____________________________________________________________

☐ ____________________________________________________________

☐ ____________________________________________________________

Now choose one thing you can get done... I promise you can do it and it will help you feel better! Afterwards, treat yo’self!

3 things I’m totally dreading doing:

☐ ____________________________________________________________

☐ ____________________________________________________________

☐ ____________________________________________________________

Now choose one thing you can get done... I promise you can do it and it will help you feel better! Afterwards, treat yo’self!
Directions: on each petal write one thing you love or are grateful for, then color in.
I am having a conflict over how to handle a situation....

Here is a brief summary of the situation:

Here is what I feel:

Here is what I want to do:

Here is what I feel I should do:

Here is what I think I will do:
CALMING YOGA POSES FOR STRESS RELIEF

13 POSES TO RELEASE YOURSELF FROM STRESS

Child's Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. Kneel on a yoga mat with legs wide apart, resting back on heels.
2. Move your hands forward until chest rests on floor, palms up, next to hips. Hold for 3 breaths.

HOW IT CALMS
- A relaxing pose that eases the mind and body stress.
- Benefits the nervous system and lymphatic system.

Bridge Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. On your back, bend knees and place feet flat on floor with hips slightly lower than knees.
2. Push hips into floor, inhale and lift hips, rolling spine off floor, keeping knees hip-width apart.
3. Press into arms and shoulders so lift chest and engage legs and buttocks so lift hips higher.
4. Hold for 48 breaths, then release on an exhale, slowly rolling spine back to floor.

HOW IT CALMS
- Provides gentle stretching of the back and legs.
- Reduces anxiety, fatigue, backaches, headaches, and insomnia.
- May help lower blood pressure.

Standing Forward Bend

INSTRUCTIONS
1. From standing, exhale forward and bend knees enough to bring palms flat to floor with head pressed against the legs.
2. Feel spine stretch in opposite directions, inhale and pull head up; keep spine long.
3. Hold for 48 breaths, then slowly bend knees, incline arms out to sides, and raise arms and torso up back to standing.

HOW IT CALMS
- Pose stretches hamstrings, thighs, and hips.
- Thought to release stress, fatigue, and mild depression.

Eagle Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. Begin standing with arms at sides.
2. Bend knees, balance on right foot and cross left leg over right, then place left leg on top of bent right knee, right arm over left.
3. Extend arms straight in front of body and left arm under right.
4. Bend elbows, raise forearms parallel to floor, and swing arms and hands, pressing palms together.
5. Square hips and chest to front wall, and draw belly in and up.
6. Count to 10 at the top of breath.
7. Hold for up to 3 minutes, then gently extend arms and legs, repeat on opposite side.

HOW IT CALMS
- Promote a feeling of inner peace and balance.
- An important pose that releases tension in the shoulders, legs, and back.

Corpse Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. Lie flat on back with legs together and hands at heart, palms up, rest.
2. Keep eyes closed and face relaxed, breathe deeply.
3. Bring attention to each part of the body, sensing or noticing each part of the body.
4. Hold this position for 3 to 4 minutes.

HOW IT CALMS
- Promotes a state of deep relaxation.
- Stretches the spine and back.
- Allows the nervous system to relax.
- Releases tension in the legs and back.

Extended Triangle Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. From standing, extend arm and leg parallel to wall, fingers pointing up, toes pointing down.
2. Turn right foot out so toes and fingers point toward the right.
3. Tighten right hip muscles, turn right thigh inward.
4. Breathe body from hips forward.
5. Turn body to left, facing wall, toes pointing left.
6. Push left leg out to left side, on floor, and can position left arm on left side.
7. Keep head straight or turn slightly to the left.
8. Hold this position for 30 seconds.

HOW IT CALMS
- Pose is an excellent stretch for the inner thigh and leg.
- Helps improve digestion.
- May help to increase circulation to the heart and lungs.

Legs-Up-The-Wall Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. So sit on the edge of the wall and rest your upper back, elbows, and head on the wall.
2. Relax shoulders and head and close your eyes for 2 minutes.

HOW IT CALMS
- Helps relieve exhaustion.
- Helps remove tension and stretch shoulders and neck.

WARNING: Avoid if you have glaucoma, pregnancy, high blood pressure, or any condition that may be complicated by lying flat.
Puppy Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. Start on all fours with shoulders stacked over wrists, hips stacked over knees, and the top of your feet relaxed down on the mat.
2. Slowly tuck hands under so the elbows are on the ground, arms long and flat.
3. Gently release forward to ground.
4. Activate arms by pressing down palms and lifting elbows and forearms away from the ground, then release shoulder blades once back and reach hips up toward the ceiling.
5. Inhale your back to relax and breathe into your back, lengthening your spine in back direction.
6. Remain in the pose for 3 to 10 breaths, then gently lift forehead and walk-palms back toward the back of your head returning to all fours.

HOW IT CALMS
- Helps to open the heart
- Masts counter-clockwise shoulder when stretched

---

Cat Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. Begin on all fours while drawing the belly to the spine.
2. Round back toward ceiling.
3. Release.learn of head toward the floor drawn down the spine.

HOW IT CALMS
- Stretches and stretches the lower back
- Relaxes areas and muscles spine

---

Dolphin Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. Starting on all fours, lower forearms to the floor, lifting nose under and lifting hips toward the ceiling.
2. Place hands shoulder width apart with fingers pointed wide.
3. Press forearms, fingers, and palms into the floor and press hips up and back while keeping a straight spine.
4. Keep feet flat with arms out, facing forward, press hands, face, feet.
5. Let head and neck hang loosely.
6. Remain in pose for 3/4 breaths and then release to side pose.

Easy Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. Ground hips in front of body and use straighten arms to lift hips.
2. With hands wide and arms behind the open face and angle legs in foward motion.
3. Place hands on knees, palms down.
4. Relax upper body in standing pose, hands back and spine,
5. Hold for up to one minute, then release and change the views of the legs.

Cow Pose

INSTRUCTIONS
1. Begin on all fours with the belly, shoulder down the spine.
2. Lift the spine and chest, raising up toward the ceiling.
3. Breathe across shoulder blades and draw shoulders away from ears.

Head-to-Knee Forward Bend

INSTRUCTIONS
1. Begin seated with legs extended.
2. Bend left leg, bring the sole of the foot to the upper toes of the right high left knee should rest on floor.
3. Place hand flat on either side of the right leg then inhale, lowering the extended leg.
4. Relax and fold forward.
5. Hold for 3 breaths and repeat on other side.

 HOW IT CALMS
- Calms the breath
- Helps with child depression anxiety, begin, chronic and breast inserts.

---

HEALTH PERCH
I'm anxious about and upcoming event/interaction:

The event is:

The worst case thing to happen would be:

The best case thing to happen would be:

The most likely thing to happen is:
On Trauma, by Claire
*Content warning: allusions to self harm.

It’s like this wound was infected and got ripped open and I need to let out all the crap and try to clean it up so it can heal a little more. Trauma is like that. Rip. Clean. Heal. Rip. Clean. Heal. ∞

But the hope is that the wound heals better each time… or at least over time. Some days we just have to slap a Band-Aid on that shit and call it good. Other times we’re willing to prod a little deeper, picking out the grit, adding stitches.

Sometimes you just need to bleed. That’s okay. It’s what wounds do. Let it seep out, cleansing as is goes. But know that there comes a point where you’ll have to apply some pressure and bandage it back up. You could let someone help you with this. Your hands are capable, but may be shaky, and it’s good to call upon another pair.

You may not want to stop the blood.

It feels incredible to sink. To bleed. To rip yourself open.

But we need blood in our bodies, winding and whispering,

rush, rush, rush,
keep going,
I love you,
rush, rush, rush,
we’ve got this.

I will give you energy for the adventure, sustenance for the long haul, nourishment for the leaps and falls.

I will tend to the aches and breaks and remind your heart it is safe as long as I can fill it.

I can cleanse your wounds but gravity is a force to be reckon with and I am a waterfall diving every second off the cliff of your forearm unless you help me find my way back home.

Love me and I will love you.

I am you.

We are always a home.
Wild Geese

You do not have to be good.
You do not have to walk on your knees
for a hundred miles through the desert, repenting.
You only have to let the soft animal of your body love what it loves.
Tell me about despair, yours, and I will tell you mine.
Meanwhile the world goes on.
Meanwhile the sun and the clear pebbles of the rain are moving across the landscapes, over the prairies and the deep trees,
the mountains and the rivers.
Meanwhile the wild geese, high in the clean blue air,
are heading home again.
Whoever you are, no matter how lonely,
the world offers itself to your imagination,
calls to you like the wild geese, harsh and exciting—
over and over announcing your place in the family of things.

- Mary Oliver
Self-care

TO DO LIST: H & R [mistudies]

I have to believe that caring for myself is not self indulgent.
Caring for myself is an act of survival.

AUDRE LORDE

HYDRATION
Did you drink enough today?

* There is endless benefits to staying hydrated all day long!
  * Combats fatigue
  * Reduces acne
  * Helps digestion

HYGEINE
Stay clean, stay focused.

* Shower daily
* Wear clean clothes (even on lazy days)
* Brush your teeth twice a day
* Wash your face

HYPERACTIVITY
Have you moved around today?

* Get up and do some exercise!
* Reduces stress
* Sleep better
* Have fun

REST
Why you should be catching every Z you possibly can:

* Improves memory
* Spurs creativity
* Sharpens attention
* Lowers stress

REWARD
Recognize hard work

[don't save special things for "special occasions"
MAKE THE OCCASION SPECIAL]

* Brighten your mood

RECHARGE
Introvert

* Netflix and actual chill time
* Meet up with some friends

Extrovert

* How do you feel today?
* Pick something to do that you always enjoy (a movie, a store, a friend, etc.)

Ambivert

* It's ok to take a ME DAY
* To be a better you
Five Areas of Therapeutic Self-Care

Physical Self-Care
- Nutrition
- Sleep
- Exercise
- Water intake
- Medication
- Supplements
- Breathing

Mental/Emotional Self-Care
- Positive self-talk
- Positive beliefs
- Feeling one's feelings
- Mood journal
- A library of positive memories
- Psychotherapy
- Family of origin healing
- Working through grief
- Working with a good therapist

Lifestyle
- Structure/routine
- Relaxation
- Setting goals
- Fulfilling work
- Time in nature
- Pleasure

People Support
- Family
- Friends
- Psychiatrist/therapist
- Minister/rabbi
- Support group
- Day treatment
- Community service

Spiritual Self-Care
- Prayer
- Meditation
- Spiritual community
- Forgiveness
- Finding purpose and meaning

The Goal
To feel vital and balanced, free from depression and anxiety
Fill in each section with self care acts that work well for you or that you’d like to try.
YOU ARE LOVED